Dear both,

Which I can now say, now that I am about to meet Sam, this hasty note to let you know I am ticketed on TWA Flight 481 on May 6, leaving National Airport at 2:30 p.m. I do not know the time of arrival, but I think it is about 3:30 your time.

This is later than I had planned, but they havejust changed the schedules, eliminating the earlier flight I'd wanted, and the one before this on which I am is just too damned early for what I am getting into.

As soon as I check into the hotel, I may want to look someone up. Perhaps you can help and accompany. It is an innocent thing, to find someone who has some pictures in which I am interested.

Anyway, looking forward!

Best,
